Market Commentary

This natural yellow sapphire of 1.96 carats presents a rare greenish-yellow hue. Its non-heated status adds significant value, as untreated sapphires are highly sought after by collectors and high-end jewelers. The loupe-clean clarity with minimal inclusions further enhances its desirability. Although no formal gemological origin report is available, the Sri Lanka lab certification confirms authenticity. The oval shape with very good cut quality ensures excellent brilliance and face-up appeal. Demand for fine unheated sapphires continues to rise in both local and international luxury markets, supporting strong retail values.
